MERRY CHRISTMAS & A HAPPY NEW YEAR

The Editor's Bit

We're a bit late with this month's Stun, but that's because we went to England for my brother Jack's funeral. Losing my brother didn't really put me in the mood for going around bars or to parties, but I've said my goodbyes to him and now it's time to get on with life. I know Jack would think the same.

So, not getting out as much means less pictures, which means less pages. Oh well, with Christmas and New Year coming up, it's the lull before the storm; we're planning to be around town as often as possible over the next couple of weeks, so the January Stun should be a bumper edition.

We don't have a Dear Dorothy for you this month; she's not answering her phone and I've heard rumours that she got picked up for shoplifting in a charity shop, again. As it's the season of goodwill, we decided against finding out more and filled her page with Christmas jokes instead.

What we lack in quantity, we make up for in quality. We've got pictures from around the bars, including parties in Susie's Saloon and the Old Highlander, Tales from the Gutter, music news, more jokes, Being Frank on Football and the latest positions in the Premiership Predictions League. That just leaves me enough space to wish you all a very merry Christmas, a happy New Year and feel free to hang The Stun up with your Christmas cards.

Happy 3rd Anniversary Frank & Rung,

Amy's currant bun (it was current seven months ago!) has slowly but surely changed into a biiiig family sized Christmas Cake. In about five (or so) weeks she can enjoy the "fruit of her labour". All the best & let us know (yes, you, Gabriel!)

Jannie (Denmark), I miss you lots, even more so round this time of year, hope you & your loved ones are all ok. Will write soon.

Hi Kim (Sweden), if I send you a photo, do you think you can do a drawing from that? And is there any other stuff you would like? Let us know.

Last month the Amsterdam Stun mentioned our friend Alex's Holistic & Aroma therapy practice, but we used the wrong tel. number. I apologise to Alex, but especially to all the people who needed a good massage, & didn't get it. So here is the right number: 06 151 328 55.

Talking about fun, it looks like Vickie & Ray are having it together, fun I mean. They seem to spend quite a bit of time together lately, & they've been grinning a lot. Maybe we'll have some fun together on Wednesday, with some more friends, for a Christmas drink!

Andy & I had some fun with a Christmas window display (see cover). Walter & two colleagues worked solid for four hours to put up all the decorations in Cafe Corso, but it's Walter's Winter Wonderland Window that's got everybody talking.

Later that night we ended up in the Old Nickel, with Marlene and her punters from the Old Quarter, to visit Peter and cuddle Pino the cat.

WARMOESSTRAAT

CENTRUM

When the Stone's football man saw he was top of the PPL last month, he left Lisette in the coffeeshop and ran down the street to the Stone's Café.

Stone's Café barmaid Angelique is making her first appearance in The Stun, but Nathalie has been gracing these pages since 1999.

If you go into the Old Quarter just before the bar closes, you'll nearly always find Casey sitting in the corner, drinking his pre-nightshift cup of coffee.

We saw Matt standing outside the Coin while we were walking down Warmoesstraat, so we had to get a picture.

ONE NIGHT IN THE DUTCHMAN

Ralph is living in Haarlem now, so we haven't see so much of him around town, but we frequently see Peter in the Dutchman, Buster's, Sláinte...

Des has gone to Brisbane to see his sister, getting away from the winter for five weeks to spend Christmas on the beach.

Painting & Decorating

Paul: 06-50 433 973

No job too large or small

From toilet to tower block

We didn't make it to the party that Klaas and his workmates held in the Dutchman, but he said it was boring: No stripper! But we did see him a week later with Jill and Yvonne.

Jim and Myra from Galway were revisiting Amsterdam after 26 years and the only bar they could find that they remember from when they lived here was the Flying Dutchman.

CHRISTMAS JOKES

Why is Christmas just like a day at the office? You do all the work and the fat guy with the suit gets all the credit.

What do you call a reindeer wearing earmuffs?

Anything you want. He can't hear you!

What do the female reindeer do when Santa takes the male reindeer out on Christmas Eve? They go into town, and blow a few bucks.

The three wise men arrived to visit the child lying in the manger. One of the wise men was exceptionally tall, and bumped his head on the low doorway as he entered the stable.

What's the difference between snowmen and snowladies? Snowballs.

"Jesus Christ!" he shouted.

Joseph said, "Write that down, Mary; it's better than Clyde!"

Christmas is weird. What other time of the year do you sit in front of a dead tree and eat candy out of your socks?

During the Karpov-Kasparov world chess championships they came to an adjournment and left for their hotel. In the lobby of the hotel several chess enthusiasts could be heard bragging, "I could beat Karpov with no problem".

Santa Claus makes his way down the chimney, and is met by a lovely young woman in a robe. She says "Santa, how about giving me a special present. I know you'd like to come into my bedroom."

"Oh yeah, I could beat both of them at the same time."

Santa responds "Ho! Ho! Ho! Gotta go. Gotta go. Gotta deliver all these toys to the children you know."

"That's nothing, I could beat both of them blindfolded!"

The lovely young thing peels off her robe, revealing a skimpy negligee. Santa looks up from his sack of gifts, and she says "I've got something special for you Santa. Can't you stay for just a little while? I know you want me. Let me make this Christmas Eve unforgettable."

Finally, the hotel manager had had enough and threw them all out of the hotel.

Santa responds "Ho! Ho! Ho! Gotta go. Gotta go. Gotta deliver all these toys to the children you know."

"But why?" a bystander asked.

Not to be denied, she strips off the negligee, revealing her naughty bits, and they were quite nice naughty bits, I might add. And she says "Santa, this is your last chance. This body is your gift."

"Because," the manager replied "I hate chess nuts boasting by an open foyer!"

Santa responds "Hey! Hey! Hey! Gotta stay. Gotta Stay. Can't get up the chimney with my dick this way!"

Two young boys were spending the night at their grandparents. At bedtime, the two boys knelt beside their beds to say their prayers when the youngest one began praying at the top of his lungs, "I PRAY FOR A NEW BICYCLE. I PRAY FOR A NEW NINTENDO. I PRAY FOR A NEW DVD..."

His older brother leaned over and nudged the younger brother and said, "Why are you shouting your prayers? God isn't deaf."

To which the little brother replied, "No, but Grandma is!"

LONDON BRIDGE KARAOKE PARTY

There was another good attendance for the monthly Karaoke party, hosted by Ernan, in the London Bridge last month.

It came as no surprise to see Phil there; he likes his karaoke, does Phil.

Marty entertained everybody with his interpretation of "Return to Sender".

Elvis songs were in hot demand: Pekkis from Finland sang "Don't".

His wife, Aila, did her best Gloria Gaynor impersonation, belting out "I Will Survive".

The next London Bridge Karaoke Party is on Friday 22nd December, so expect a lot of Christmas songs. It starts around 20:00 and admission is free.

WHAT'S ON

In addition to the karaoke party in London Bridge, Ernan will be bringing his karaoke to other bars in the area too. On Thursday 21st December, he'll be presenting a show in Big Shots on Warmoesstraat. If you'd like a karaoke show in your bar, why not give Ernan a call on 06-21 261 404.

The audience and musicians had a great time during the Wonderjam in Maloe Melo last month, although at times, it did get a bit crowded on stage. The next big night in Maloe Melo is the New Year Beat Bash from the AmsterdamBeatClub, with four live bands plus DJ's playing in both bars. Tickets cost €25, but be quick, they're nearly sold out!

Santanico are off to Switzerland to play 11 gigs in 11 days straight after Christmas. It won't affect Gregorio's Monday night in Bourbon Street (they're closed on the 25th and 1st), but he'll have to miss the Wednesday night Real Jam with Jeroen in the Waterhole a couple of times.

Talking of Jam, Gabriel has asked for our help in starting a Sunday afternoon jam session in The End. It's open to all musicians and bands are also welcome; you never know, if you're a big hit with the audience, Gabriel might give you a paid gig. If you're interested in playing, call Gabriel on 06-490 488 39 or send an e-mail to jam@stun.nl. We should have more details for you in next month's Stun, but if it starts before then, look out for the flyers.

ROUND

This is our first picture of Kate at work in Coco's Outback, but the last one of Amy, who's going to do a bit of travelling before heading back to Australia.

Rachel and Justine in the Stone's Corner.

The Amsterdam Seven, in the Blarney Stone.

It really, really, really was Paul's last night working in Finnegan's Rainbow. He was due to fly out to Thailand the next day.

Ray said he's getting married to Hester and Yvonne on 25th December. That's why the Old Highlander is closed. We haven't been invited yet, but we hope to get pictures.

THE BARS

We didn't catch Tony, Gerda or Andrew singing at the London Bridge karaoke night, but it still only took Andrew six months to get his face in The Stun; having the same name as me probably helped.

It was Ana's birthday, so she had to give Allison a big kiss for making it such a great day in the Flying Dutchman.

Max and Orlando were more than happy to share a jug of beer with me in the Waterhole.

Tony insisted on having his picture taken with Endu when we saw them in The End,

ANNIE'S GONE TO

Annie has left Amsterdam and moved to London to be with Sam, but before leaving, she had a party in Susie's Saloon to say good-bye to her friends and family.

Her sister Brigitte was there...

And brother Fred got Annie a pair of boots, to get through a London winter, and a bottle of Absolut Bling Bling Vodka.

Amongst the people there were Vince, Hendrick, Mara, Nanna and Lisa.

Here's Annie with Nanna and Lisa, again.

LONDON

While Annie and Brigitte were posing for the camera, Meghna came by, so Annie got her to join them for a picture.

Signe and Mara were deep in conversation.

Party or no party, it came as no surprise to see Liam there, with James and Luke.

Before we left, Annie insisted on having her picture taken with Cheeks.

Judging by the smile on Vera's face, she wasn't working behind the bar that night.

NICOLA'S 25TH

They love parties in the Old Highlander, so Nicola's 25th birthday had to be celebrated! After all, you're only 25 once. So, all of her family and friends were in the bar to wish her the best and have a good time. They all know who they are, so we won't bother with too many captions.

Vlatko found a big knife to cut the cake.

Toosh took the night off from the Koggeschip to be at his daughter's party.

JOKES

With our Guest Jokers: Rush & Jane

A 6-year old and a 4-year old are upstairs in their bedroom. "You know what?" says the 6-year old. "I think it's about time we started cussing." The 4-year old nods his head in approval. The 6-year old continues, "When we go downstairs for breakfast, I'm gonna say something with hell and you say something with ass." The 4-year old agrees with enthusiasm. When the mother walks into the kitchen and asks the 6-year old what he wants for breakfast, he replies, "Aw, hell, Mom, I guess I'll have some Cheerios."

WHACK! He flies out of his chair, tumbles across the kitchen floor, gets up, and runs upstairs crying his eyes out, with his mother in hot pursuit, slapping his rear with every step. His Mom locks him in his room and shouts, "You can stay there until I let you out!"

She then comes back downstairs, looks at the 4-year old and asks with a stern voice, "And what do YOU want for breakfast, young man?" "I don't know," he blubbers, "but you can bet your fat ass it won't be Cheerios."

An Irish woman of advanced age visited her physician to ask his help in reviving her husband's libido.

"What about trying Viagra? the doctor asks.

"Not a chance", she said. "He won't even take an aspirin".

"Not a problem", replied the doctor. "Give him an "Irish Viagra". It's when you drop the Viagra tablet into his coffee. He won't even taste it. Give it a try and call me in a week to let me know how things went".

It wasn't a week later that she called the doctor, who directly inquired as to progress. The poor dear exclaimed, "Oh, faith, bejaysus and begorra! T'was horrid! Just terrible, doctor!" "Really? What happened?" asked the doctor.

"Well, I did as you advised and slipped it in his coffee and the effect was almost immediate. He jumped straight up, with a twinkle in his eye, and with his pants a-bulging fiercely! With one swoop of his arm, he sent the cups and tablecloth flying, ripped me clothes to tatters and took me then and there, took me passionately on the tabletop! It was a nightmare, I tell you, an absolute nightmare!"

"Why so terrible?" asked the doctor, "Do you mean the sex your husband provided wasn't good"?

"Twas the best sex I've had in 25 years! But sure as I'm sittin' here, I'll never be able to show me face in Starbucks again."

A loud pounding on the door awakens a man and his wife at 3 o'clock in the morning.

The man gets up and goes to the door where a drunken stranger standing in the pouring rain, is asking for a push.

"Not a chance," says the husband, "it is 3 o'clock in the morning!"

He slams the door and returns to bed.

"Who was that?" asked his wife.

"Just some drunk guy asking for a push," he answers.

"Did you help him?" she asks.

"No, I did not! It's 3 o'clock in the morning and it is pouring out there!"

"Well, you have a short memory," says his wife. "Can't you remember about three months ago when we broke down and those two guys helped us? I think you should help him, and you should be ashamed of yourself!"

The man does as he is told, gets dressed, and goes out into the pounding rain.

He calls out into the dark, "Hello, are you still there?"

"Yes" comes back the answer.

"Do you still need a push?" calls out the husband.

"Yes, Please!" comes the reply from the dark.

"Where are you?" asks the husband.

"Over here on the swing!" replies the drunk.

BEING FRANK ON FOOTBALL

Richard Hooker once remarked that “change that there would be lots of dosh forthcoming is not made without inconvenience, even from when he re-entered the transfer market in January to better”. Whether the dismissal of any. This vote of confidence was of course very Alan Pardew last week is for the best, only time will tell, but the general consensus of opinion from Hammers fans is that this was very much a panic measure. He is, amazingly, just the second Premiership boss to get the axe so far this season, but expect lots more in the New Year. In his three short years at the helm, Our AI took West Ham to two play-offs in the Championship before successfully guiding them back to the top flight last season, where they finished a very creditable ninth. This season has short-lived and three successive defeats and eighteenth place in the Premiership ensured that Our AI's number was up. Thanks for the memories AI.

The Christmas period is once again upon us so let me take this opportunity to wish you all a very happy Christmas and an exciting New Year! As is the norm at this time of the year, I have gone Crystal ball gazing again and this is what I have come up with.

Essential presents on this lots shopping list. Jose Mourinho: A Christmas card from Sir Alex to say that he has decided to take early retirement after all. Arse Wenger: Find a way of cloning Mr. Henry. Sam Allardyce: Turn the BBC into a pirate television network. Alan Hansen: Stop me from being such a self-opinionated dipstick. John Motson: Long Johns and a willy-warmer. Alan Pardew: A miracle - or a chairman that actually keeps to his word. They are of course one and the same thing. Steve McLaren: A chance to go into the transfer market. Adrian Boothroyd: A league win; anyplace, anywhere, but not anytime!

Premiership Predictions League

Sponsored by British General Stores

It's getting close to the halfway stage in the Premiership, but unlike the real league, the PPL is far from a one horse race. In the six weeks since our last update, Stones has dropped from 1st to 18th and Paul Tandy from 3rd to 22nd, whereas Holwijn jumped from last to 9th and J.R. from 22nd to 6th. Anything can happen in the PPL! Anyway, here are the positions as of Tuesday 19th December.

1 st	Katie Wright	6	4	22
2 nd	Daan The Man	5	3	18
3 rd	Alex	4	3	15

In the Premiership in England and the first division in The Netherlands, there now appears to be only one winner. Manchester United have all but wrapped up the Premiership and much the same can be said of PSV over here. Of course, those faithful supporters of Chelsea and Ajax may still think otherwise, but the chances of either of these two NOT raising the silverware already seems rather remote. We must not forget AZ in this country too, but their feeble draw away to Ajax was just about the last straw for them I would think. In Scotland, Celtic could almost take the trophy home with them now, such is the gaping gap between themselves and their nearest rivals. They are currently a staggering sixteen points clear of their old adversaries Rangers, who lie in third spot, after Aberdeen. And who thought Dutch football was predictable?

IN THE BACK

It started as a picture of Martina, Vicky and Janneke, but Paul and Ray got in too.

Bimhuis cook Alan, Olly and Ruairi, both ex-Sláinte, were in the Newcastle.

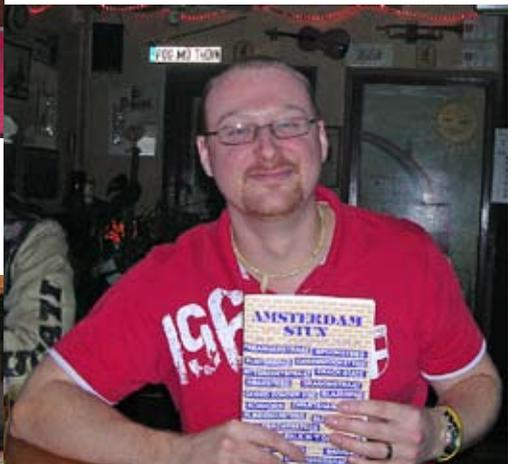

Brendan, Marlene & Guvnes O'Lunacy in the Old Nickel.

West Ham fan Keith went to school (South West Ham Tech) with Alan Curbishley, so he was over the moon when the Hammers beat Man United in Alan's first game in charge.

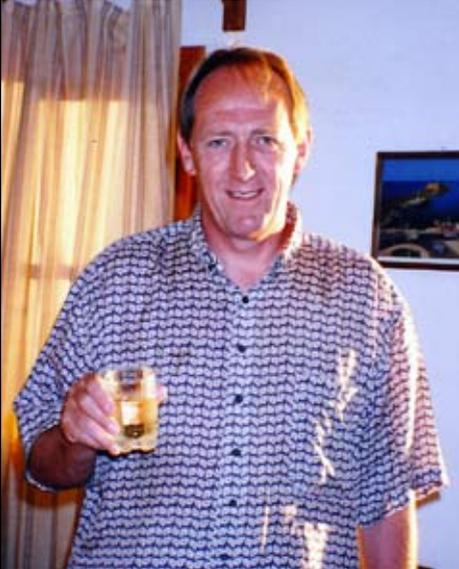

Graham has just become a dad; Emely and Jayden are doing well. He always wanted to be in The Stun, so when we saw him in his local, Finnegan's Rainbow, we couldn't say no.

Jack Reeves

2nd January 1946 - 25th November 2006

My big brother Jack died a couple of weeks ago after suffering from mesothelioma, caused by working with asbestos when he was in the construction trade.

Although he was only 10 years older than me, that's a lot when you're a kid. I was about 12 when he got married and moved away, so I never really got to know him very well. Living in different countries probably didn't help things in later years, but I never realised how much we had in common until we were at his funeral. If I'd known he was into computers, like me, I could have picked his brains if I had a problem I couldn't solve. He was also a bit of a karaoke singer; I've been known to sing a song or two myself. And of course, like all the Reeves brothers, he had impeccable taste in women.
