Like Sports? Then you will LOVE Three Sisters Pub on Rembrandtplein!!!

We are a 335m<sup>2</sup> English pub located in the heart of Amsterdam with only live games from all over the world.

We have 28 tv's, on which we can show 10 different games at the same time!! If it's football, ice hockey, baseball, basketball, tennis, golf, cricket, boxing or darts you want to see... it is all possible!

If you want to see another match, just ask the staff and we will try to find it for you! We are the only bar in Amsterdam with 218 sports channels from all over the world!!!

And if that is not enough... our menu is also the best there is.

Our burgers are amazing!!! But the menu is comprehensive enough for everybody.

So if you are looking for a nice evening, watch your favourite game, have a good meal and friendly staff around you? Come to Three Sisters Pub on Rembrandtplein 19 and have a great Amsterdam experience!!!

Page Three

It was a bit nippy out when I delivered last month's Stun to H. Murray's, which is probably why Luna was wearing a jumper.

Three weeks later, it was unseasonably warm, but Hayley and Alicia kept their cool behind the bar in Molly Malone's.

Friday night means Ness behind the bar of the Backstage Bar.

Patricia and Aideen were behind the bar as I passed the Blarney Stone, so I had to drop in and take a photo.

The Editor's Bit

A new year and a new Stun, although it's pretty much the same as previous years; you can't teach an old dog new tricks, apparently. I'm not going to give any predictions for the year ahead, but when it comes to our Cover Competition, I want to look up in future.

I'm sure I can't be alone in not noticing what's above my eye line; I lived here for over 20 years before I noticed there was a big church at the top of Spuistraat.

November's cover with the statues above Jumbo on Damrak only got one correct entry, but I will persevere! For this month's Cover Competition, all you have to do to get an Honourable Mention in this column next month is tell me where this above eye-level artwork is located, unless you're known as Big Al, in which case, we'll need the names of the artwork and the architect! Contact details are on page 2 or you can tell me if you see me in a bar, but make sure I write it down because I'm liable to forget.

It was great seeing Janet in town again but she had to give dancing on the benches a miss at this year's Christmas party in Café Oporto. See pages 14 & 15 for more photos.

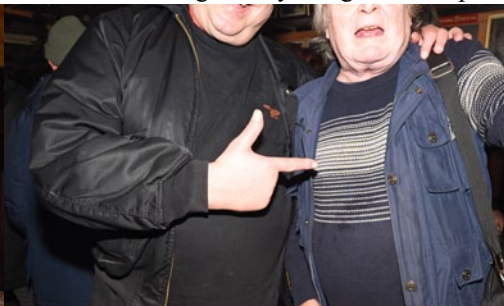

Molly Malone's boss Steven suggested I drop by during the afternoon on St. Steven's Day because all of his family would be in. I said I'd try to get there before I went for Boxing Day dinner with my family, but that never happened, although I did make it to Molly's on my way home.

I missed Steven's family, but I did get to meet Jim! I've known his son Alex for years and daughter Sarah back in Cork even longer.

People get upset when I say no to them taking a photo with my camera, but I have a good reason; nobody seems to remember how to use the viewfinder on a real camera. This one of me and Big Franky is a good example.

There's no Being Frank on Football this month, Frank and Rung are taking a well deserved holiday, so there's no Premier Predictions League table either, but you can always see the latest stand on the Stun website.

All of our usual stuff is here, along with a lot more photos than usual, so enjoy your first Amsterdam Stun of 2024.

Andy

New Year, New Game!

It's time to play... "Fart, Fart, Who Laid the Fart!" The longer the ride, the better the game.

You can never pinpoint the farter on a crowded elevator. The odour just slowly rises up from clenched buttocks to scrunched noses and runny eyes with no hint of an owner.

For some strange reason, people refuse to believe that well dressed or well mannered people fart, so Dress to Impress!

Stare at the dirtiest looking person on the ride and wrinkle your nose with disapproval.

If there are no dirty people to disapprove of, choose a shapely woman. Most people won't blame a young lovely for emitting pink clouds of stinky. But other less endowed women hate her and are willing to believe anything that will bring her down a peg or two. As a bonus, it's fun revenge for us guys who know we don't have the chance of a snowball in hell of ever getting any attention from her.

Remember... screw up your face and stare accusingly at your victim. If it's a short ride, you might try fanning yourself and rolling your eyes in mock pain as you stare at her.

If the other riders don't take the hint and blame her, I add dirty looks and sighs to the equation.

It works better on long skyscraper rides.

Ah! That magic moment, when the elevator glides to a stop, and the door opens to emit a cloud of stench into the face of a person who summoned the stink mobile of grumpy "who did it" riders. I just stand there innocently grimacing and clucking as the door opens to emit vaporized shit aroma!

Yes boys and girls, I think it's gonna be a great smelly Happy New Year!

Coming from Leidseplein, it's the first canal on the right

Helma, Shaun, Chris, Josie and Paul were in Molly Malone's for Paul's last night in town and they had live music from the Jones Trio.

Drummer Tom decided the band's gig in Molly's was the perfect opportunity to celebrate his birthday on stage, even though his actual birthday was over a week later.

ROUND T

Molly Malone's was like a local bar for local people on St. Steven's Day (26th Dec) with Remco, Avi, Paula, Tom and Steven on everybody's favourite table, and there are more photos In The Back.

If my memory serves me well, Josie, Mary, Nellie and Evelyn had been celebrating Mary's retirement when I walked into Café Oporto.

THE BARS

Where would Jay from Jay's Garage be without Tanco on drums, Franklin on bass and Simon on guitar? Well, he wasn't around when I took this photo of the band in Maloe Melo.

Rob and Joost were in the audience at the Jay's Garage gig in Maloe Melo, so at least they saw Jay on stage.

I'm not going to bang on about climate change, but here's a photo of Kenny and Dennis, propping up the bar in H. Murray's at the end of November while it was -1 outside...

But on the eve of Christmas Eve, and sitting in the same seats in H. Murray's, Jeroen, Paula and Caitlin knew there was no chance of a White Christmas; it was +10 at midnight!

In Memory of Lamar Chase

♥ 15 October 1953 ~ 27 December 2023 †

We've lost one of the greatest Blues artists I was honoured to know with the passing of Lamar! I got to know him not long after he arrived in Amsterdam from Oakland, California and everybody loved his shows. Even though Lamar performed all over Europe, Amsterdam was his home, so we got to see him play more often. A Blues man in heart and soul, Lamar was on stage in Bourbon Street the night before he left us to join the Great Gig in the Sky.

JOKES

Two crocodiles were basking by the side of the swamp near the river. The smaller one turned to the bigger one and says, "I can't understand how you can be so much bigger than me. We're the same age. We were the same size as kids. I just don't get it."

"Well," said the big croc, "What have you been eating?"

"Politicians, same as you," replied the small croc. "Hmm. Well, where do you catch them?"

"Down the other side of the swamp near the parking lot by the Parliament buildings."

"Same here. Hmm. How do you catch them?"

"Well, I crawl up under one of their Lexus cars and wait for one to unlock the car door. Then I jump out, grab them by the leg, shake the shit out of them and eat 'em!"

"Ah!" says the big crocodile, "I think I see your problem. You're not getting any real nourishment. See, by the time you finish shaking the shit out of a politician, there's nothing left but an arsehole and a briefcase."

When I was about 9 years old, I accompanied my father to the funeral of a friend of his, someone who I didn't even know.

When we got there, I stayed in a corner waiting for the time to pass.

Then a man approached me and said, 'Enjoy life son, be happy because time flies. Look at me now, I didn't enjoy it.'

Then he passed his hand over my head and left. My father, before leaving, forced me to say goodbye to the dead person.

When I looked in the coffin, I was horrified to see that the man in the coffin was the same man who had spoken to me!

I was so traumatized I couldn't sleep properly. I had terrible nightmares. I was terrified of being alone.

I couldn't sleep without a night light for many years. I saw many psychologists, endured much turmoil throughout my adolescent years. It got better as I aged, but I would still occasionally wake up screaming in fear.

Years later, I discovered something incredible that changed my life.

The dead bastard had a twin.

A woman was in bed with her lover when she heard her husband opening the front door.

'Hurry,' she said, 'stand in the corner.'

She rubbed baby oil all over him, and then dusted him with talcum powder. 'Don't move until I tell you,' she said. 'Pretend you're a statue.'

'What's this?' the husband inquired as he entered the room. 'Oh, it's a statue,' she replied. 'The Smiths bought one and I liked it so I got one for us too.'

No more was said, not even when they went to bed.

Around 2am, the husband got up, went to the kitchen and returned with a sandwich and a beer.

'Here, have this,' and he gives the sandwich and beer to the statue.

Then he said to the statue: 'I stood like that for two days at the Smiths house and nobody offered me anything!'

The foreman on a large work site noticed a new labourer one day and barked at him: "What's your name?"

"John." The new bloke replied.

The Foreman scowled. "Look, I don't know what kind of wishy-washy work site you were on before, but I don't call anyone by their first name. It's weak and wastes time. I call my employees by their last name only Smith, Jones, Baker, that's all. If I want a job done, I yell, Baker, get this or Jones, do that. Now that we have that straight, what's your last name?"

The new bloke sighed, "Darling. My name is John Darling."

The foreman paused briefly for a couple of seconds, and then said quietly...

"Ok John, the first thing I want you to do is...!"

Behind More Bars

It's not in the Stun Gig List yet, but Pasquale will be hosting the Death Metal Saturday in The Cave on the 3rd February with Fracturus from Canada headlining and support from Dutch band Massive Assault!

Patrick was busy behind the front bar during Lamar's memorial concert in Maloe Melo, so he didn't have time to pose for a photo.

Once again, we've gone XXL for a photo of the bar crew in the Poolbar, and once again there are far too many to name individually!

More Rounds

I didn't know former Waterhole Plee-Boy Dennis is in Brentsleng, but Jeroen and Koen confirmed it when I saw them in Maloe Melo.

The Jones Trio became a quartet with Gareth, Tom and Erik being joined by Eric on guitar for their gig in Molly Malone's.

After bumping into Ariana and Will on the bus, it would have been rude not to drop in the Regent van Amsterdam for a photo.

It's Josie again, but this time she's with Danielle, who hasn't been in the Stun for a while, and we can never have too much Josie!

IN THE BACK

We had to go XXL for this photo of Darren, Alan, Alex, Steven, Jim, Matty and Greg, celebrating St. Steven's Day (December 26th, Boxing Day, tweede kerstdag,...) in Molly Malone's.

Celebrating the first Friday of 2024 in the Backstage Bar, we went XXL again for with this one of Ness, Ariana, Tommy, Steven, Remco, Bobby and Brian!

The Backstage Bar is 100% Ajax so Brian, Steven and Steven all wanted to work during the match against Marseille, so they all did.

Even though it's out of focus, I couldn't leave out this one of Paula and Phil in Molly's.

A last one from my pre-Christmas pub crawl, it's Donovan and Bobby in H. Murray's.
